Whistle Blowing Policy and Procedures

POLICY

The policy of the St John the Baptist Church is to safeguard the interests of any of its employees when they act as alerters regarding any neglect or abuse, mental, physical, emotional, sexual, racial/ethnic or financial, of service users or any similar abuse of colleagues.

The St John the Baptist Church accepts that it is bound by legislation in the Public Interest Disclosure Act 1998 and guarantees that procedures will be invoked in ways which do not prejudice the “whistleblower’s” own position and prospects.

The St John the Baptist Church will protect the employee against victimisation and provide support throughout the investigation process.

The St John the Baptist Church is committed to ensuring that employees:

- Have knowledge and understanding of protection procedures;
- Are committed to emphasising that harassment is unacceptable;
- Are enabled to identify oppressive abuse when it occurs;
- Are informed regarding their individual duty to act to protect service users;
- Are made aware of measures to safeguard their interests if they act as “whistleblowers”
- Are made aware of their rights under the Public Interest Disclosure Act 1998.

PROCEDURE

The St John the Baptist Church through its training, instructs its employees that it is their duty to their employer and their professional obligation to raise legitimate concerns about suspected misconduct by colleagues, managers or those with whom it works notably in community projects.

The St John the Baptist Church sees its employees in the roles of alerters to promote the safeguarding of the rights of others, to log any concerns and report such concerns to appropriate managers. Alerters are not being asked to verify or prove that concerns are true.

The St John the Baptist Church undertakes to protect its employees from victimisation when they act as alerters.
